Purple Day – 26 March 2024

Join the thousands of others pushing the purple button, to turn the world purple, raise money and help make a life-changing difference for people living with epilepsy. In 2008, eight-year-old Cassidy Megan from Canada decided she wanted to help raise awareness for people with epilepsy and to help them realise that they're not alone. Cassidy picked purple to represent this day because lavender is internationally recognised as the flower for epilepsy. Over the years, the event grew to become the international success we know today, and it's now one of the biggest fundraising events in the epilepsy calendar. Taking place in March, every year thousands of amazing people come together to raise awareness and funds to help make a difference for people living with epilepsy.
